

A Lifelong Friendship

There's something about a lifelong friendship that always seems to flourish with sweet memories made travelling down the long corridors of life and is indeed, a thing to cherish

There's something about a lifelong friendship that never seems to tarnish even when distance separates and despite life's toils and strife it does indeed, not dull nor perish

There's something about a lifelong friendship that really seems to nourish the innermost soul for it is given and received with no motive but to be a precious friend

©2011 Pamela McMonagle