

You Are My Daughter

*There are things in my life that I can do without but I never, never want to be without you You are the light of my day and joy of my night you bring sun beams into every corner of my life
You are my daughter*

*Your smile, your laughter, your spirited disposition transforms every moment, every situation to something vibrant and quite exceptional and your honesty and integrity is definitely admirable
You are my daughter*

*You can articulate and argue with passion yet your sensitivity and thoughtfulness has no comparison you are indeed the sweetest, prettiest girl I know with charm and grace you exude a golden glow
You are my daughter*

And not to mention your songful voice would be a crime I would not commit by choice for it can enthrall and thrill an amphitheatre Yes, indeed, I am really proud you are my daughter!

by Pamela McMonagle ©2009